Village Council Board of Trade

The first business of the Village Council at their meeting Tuesday evening, after the minutes of previous meeting had been read and approved, was to declare vacant the seat on the Council, deserted by V. L. Lloyd. The secretary-treasurer, as returning officer, was instructed to give notice of a meeting on Wednesday, April 22nd, in the evening, at the office of the C. P. Starr Lumber Co., when nominations will be handed in. The election will be held one week from that date.

A length of piping from the old well had been sold to Mr. McCracken with the understanding that it be returned if not satisfactory. The well drillers were not able to make use of it and the piping was returned. It was decided to refund the $8.40, the price of the pipe.

A programme for keeping the town in a sanitary condition was submitted by the health officer. It was resolved to work according to his suggestions. A notice is to be inserted in the Carlstadt News that all premises must be cleaned up by April 22nd.

Part of the programme was incorporated in health bye-law, which will be printed in the News. The ditch along Carlstadt Avenue must be cleaned out, and it was decided to secure a man to attend to this and properly drain low places.

It was reported that sand is believed to have got into the pump. This will be attended to and the cylinder brought above the level of the sand. The wire controlling the mill has been broken four times, and it was decided that this must be made secure and indiscriminate use of it must be prevented.

The Carlstadt School District sent in a requisition for $2,600, for expenses for the current year. The following accounts were passed: Carlstadt News, printing bye-law, $11.76; H. Jensen, dry-cleaning, $2.92; A. J. Drummond, supplies, $5.10; F. Stewart, commission on tax collections, etc., $19.50.

Council adjourned to meet again Monday, May 4th.

A meeting will be held Friday evening in the store of A. J. Drummond to organize a Carlstadt Gun Club.

A. D. Thompson will give good prices for what you bring him. Try some of his fine beef.

The Board of Trade met in the American Hotel to-night with a moderate attendance. After the reading of minutes of previous meeting, the various committees presented their report.

On the motion of Mrs. Woolven, seconded by E. B. Ross, the secretary was instructed to write the Travellers' Association in respect to a sample room being provided at Carlstadt. Correspondence has been received from the Suffield Board of Trade regarding having land known, open south of these towns. The Secretary was instructed to write the proper authorities upon this matter. The question of fire protection was brought up and it was suggested that a committee be appointed to interview the fire chief and try to have a fire practice arranged. Mrs. Woolven and E. B. Ross were appointed a committee to meet again at the same place, Wednesday, May 6th.

Stockyards Building

The C.P.R. Bridge and Building Department' outfit, consisting of Foreman Choiniere and fifteen men arrived Wednesday to construct the new stockyards. Three cars of posts and lumber are already on the ground and work will be commenced at once. The location is 150 feet East of the Imperial Oil Company tanks. The yards, two in number, will be five car-capacity fully equipped with shelter sheds, feed racks and chutes for both single and double deck cars. Foreman Choiniere has many years experience in constructing yards, and as no expense is being spared by the C.P.R. we can be assured that Carlstadt will have one of the most up-to-date yards on the C.P.R. system.

The Alberta Board of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada will convene in Calgary, the 6th, 6th, and 7th of May next. It is requested that every merchant who can make it convenient, will be present. The provincial secretary writes the News that the Association endeavours constantly to impress upon its members the great importance of taking the advertising columns of the local paper as an indispensable aid to business. This question is accorded a prominent place for discussion on the programme prepared for this occasion.

Mrs. Frost, of Claresholm, is visiting her sister, Mrs. O. J. Wood.

Sir William Whyte, at one time vice-president of the C.P.R., died rather suddenly in Los Angeles, on Tuesday.

The Farmers' Hotel is the home of the farmers when they come to town.

Communication

Suffield, April 18th, 1914.
The Editor, Carlstadt News.

Dear Sir,
In your last week's issue of the "News," reference is made to the actions, rumored and otherwise, of various inhabitants of this village, myself among others. Perhaps it would interest you to know that several of these items have proved themselves most obnoxious, not only to the people mentioned therein, but to other disinterested persons. Whoever furnished you with these items, showed a lamentable lack of judgment.

It is possible that the author of these insinuations wished to demonstrate what a fund of humor he or she possessed. Be that as it may, the "humor" (I can't find another name for it) displayed is most rank and of a very crude order, worthy only of publication in

NOTICE.

The residents of Carlstadt are hereby notified to clean their premises of manure, garbage and waste matter of all kinds, also to clean out and disinfect all out houses.

J. Y. Clark has received notice of his appointment as issuer of marriage licenses for Carlstadt.

The veriest rag. I may say that your paper has a good reputation in this district. Last week's items under the heading "Suffield" did not enhance that reputation. Therefore you will readily perceive, did you eliminate such piffle, such an action would be to your best interests.

I am, Yours truly,
GEORGE M. BOUTH.
P.S.—I may say that the Suffield Club is O.K. Should your local correspondent feel inquisitive about it, just refer him or her to me.

TIME IS MONEY--therefore if you want money, make proper use of your time, and you will have money. Seeding should be well under way now, the more that is seeded before the rains start the better.

In order to hasten seeding, get a VAN BRUNT DRILL, and not only get your seed in on time but put your seed in the ground at a proper depth and evenly seeded.

We have sent out a good many drills but there are still a few more on hand that we are willing to dispose of. We sold a 12 foot drill last week to Ben Stewart. Ben has a section to seed and he likes to have a drill wide enough to finish an ordinary field in one trip across. We have not sold one 16 disc drill this Spring, all the drills sold have been either 18 or 20 discs except one 24 double disc drill and one shoe drill.

For your Spring plowing you want a Packer, well we have a few still in stock.

One reason why Spring plowing does not give as good satisfaction as desired is because the ground is left loose after plowing and dries out--Moral, get a Packer.

Now you do not need any arguing to buy plows, for John Deere Plows go like snow before a Chinook Wind.

For Summer fallow, use an Acme Harrow, we have them in stock.

G. S. PINGLE M.P.P.

ADDRESSES FARMERS.

Mr. C. S. Pingle M.P.P. for the Redcliff riding, was in town Saturday evening and addressed a large audience of farmers and citizens. This was the first of a series of meetings Mr. Pingle is holding in this portion of his constituency.

During this week he addressed the various locals of the U.F.A. north of Carlstadt.

The Advance Hall was engaged for the occasion and W. J. Hall presided over a packed house. As a lengthy programme had been prepared, the regular business of the Carlstadt Union was suspended.

The Carlstadt Orchestra furnished several fine selections.

Mr. Tammes gave a violin solo, C. J. Gehringer and daughter gave two violin and guitar duets, which were greatly appreciated.

Mrs. J. Y. Clark read a paper which was found very entertaining. Mrs. E. C. Hogg delivered a recitation, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. J. M. Torsen. It was a wonderfully pretty thing, with a vein of pathos which kept the attention of the audience throughout and which drew some merited applause.

Three gentlemen were present to address the meeting. Lorne Laidlaw was unable to be there and his place was taken by D. Dundon, who spoke on the benefits to be derived from organization.

He remarked, in a district where the farmers have organized as his speech was somewhat superfluous. Yet he was listened to appreciatively.

Mr. McFarly touched on Dominion issue. He discussed these questions superficially, not going into details. He is a very clear and lucid speaker and it was a pleasure to hear him.

Mr. Pingle's address was an account given by his constituents of what has been done by the provincial government in their behalf. He showed that, in time of financial stress, much improvement has been carried on, and that although the Redcliff riding is a large area, and its representative has many demands made upon him the farmers have reason to congratulate themselves upon the legislation which has been passed in their favor. He explained the legislation affecting school grants and showed that the provincial government have reduced the grants to the cities, which can provide revenue for themselves, but to the scattered rural districts, which have not similar resources, have very materially raised the grant.

Mr. Pingle thanked the Carlstadt people for the splendid majority he received at the last election, and when the time comes around for him to again ask their support, he expects to be honored by being returned to represent them once more.

The meeting was thrown open for a general discussion, in which several local farmers took part. The chief question brought up was that of amending the pre-emption law. It is understood that it might be possible to secure a reduction of $3.00 an acre payment to $1.00 an acre. Some were in favor of taking this as an offer, while others were demanding more. This will be discussed at a future meeting of the U.F.A.

Various opinions upon road building were expressed. Mr. Pingle described several methods of road building and showed the farmers how fortunate they are compared to the residents in the northern part of the province, where the land is so swampy that good roads are almost an impossibility.

The singing of the National Anthem brought a very successful meeting to a close.

The Editor and family spent Good Friday in Banquo.

An election for a Councillor to fill the vacancy caused by the departure from Carlstadt of V. L. Lloyd, will be held Wednesday, April 22nd. A meeting for this purpose will be held in the C. F. Starr office on that evening when the returning officer, V. E. Starr, will be present to receive names of candidates which must be in writing, nominated and seconded by duly qualified ratepayers. It is now up to the citizens of Carlstadt to elect a man who shall have their entire approval. Choose a good man and put him in with a big majority. Several names have already been suggested. The News at present does not express any opinion upon the merits of proposed candidates. But when the contest opens, the best man can rely upon the hearty support of the News.

A determined effort is to be made to put this town in a sanitary condition and to keep it so. The health officer has prepared some valuable advice and the Council has decided to enforce the suggested reforms. If proper care is taken an epidemic such as occurred last year and such as common through the country, need not be feared. Necessary precautions will prevent it.

The News has received a marked copy of a daily paper in which is an address by a follower of the advanced religion "Christian Science." He submits very plausible arguments in support of his theory. It is asserted that the founder of the Christian religion, Jesus Christ, placed greatest importance upon healing those who were sick and that his entire teaching was that of a faith which makes one whole. According to this interpretation of the Gospel, the Christian Church of the present day is altogether at variance with its supposed founder, Jesus Christ. It is argued that present day religion is merely a survival of pagan ceremonies and that the example and precepts of Jesus have been almost entirely forgotten. Revolutionary beliefs which most of us would hesitate to harbor.

Peaceful Valley.

Mrs Rice, of Peaceful Valley was taken to the Medicine Hat Hospital last week.

B. F. Sewell moved to his home at Bow Island, Miss Sewell and children accompanying him.

Eldon Holroyd is expecting to start his engine and plows now.

J. Eola has moved back to his homestead. He has been working in Redcliff. He brought chickens and pigs with him, and all he needs is a housekeeper.

Mr Henry Flinders was a visitor at Medicine Hat last week.

Sydney Ruckman has purchased a new home from J. McClellan.

Mike Williver has started to work three times already and is still on his homestead. Oh, you Mike! You must like homestead life.

Jim Greenwood at last had gone to work. People don't think he'll stay very long.

PEERLESS FLASHINGS

Bill Morrison, of Lost Paradise, visited Hans Hanson, on Thursday and Friday.

George Whitney, returned on Thursday after spending the past few months at Langdon. He says he stayed sober.

Bert Leslie returned on Thursday after spending the winter in Langdon.

A. Whitney made a trip to Brooks on Saturday.

Mrs. Jensen gave a dance on Thursday night and over one had a swell time.

Colonel Cuddy returned on Thursday.

Did Pezarus, get a halting call? Well I guess so. Where? What? Where it comes from. Never mind. He will not come out in the wash.

Jack Little and Hans Hanson went to Jernat on Friday.

Jack Morrison left for Calgary, on Thursday.

Eric Jones and Mrs. Maxwell, went to Jernat on Friday.

Fuzzy broke three pick handles in one week. Maybe he breaks them with an axe to make people think he is working, but it is an expensive bluff.

The Peerless Riders, held a stampee at Fuzzy's on Friday. Everything was ridden, including Whiskey, the famous outlaw horse imported from Langdon. Stew is on the program next Friday at 2 p.m.

Colonel Cuddy called on the Tribe family on Saturday.

Hans Hanson went to Carlstadt on Saturday.

Bill Stafford buried half his homestead last week, it being a rock.

J. W. Young was elected trustee for the Peoples' school board on Friday.

Polona Town.

The maharajah town across the way. That grew so wonderful in one day, it is sure to be some size, it has so well been advertised.

Now Polona has no booster man. Can't even boast a post office van. But daily stage is where we shine. Watch Windfield's mules go down the line.

We need no moraines on Polona branch. White Windfield owns his great big ranch.

We need no motels grand and gay. As long as he with us will stay.

He don't have to get his riding done by outside help—no chance. For Rob and Taylor can ride every one. With their new Angora pants.

Ben Foxton tries to help them out. For a tenderfoot he does it fine. But when summer comes I think you'll find

That baseball is more in Bennis' line.

For mixed farming Rube Clark's the man.

He has stock of all kind on his farm. He has cats and white rats, and an excellent crop

Of little pet rabbits that around him hop.

There's L. C. Furey, of him we cannot brag.

Though he's slight to chew the rag. On promising crops and weather fine.

He has most of his farming in winter time.

And our friend is much the same. He bought an engine in winter time.

He took jobs and worked till winter. And when spring opened up he called his order.

Bill Fetter was first man to buy a site. Bring on your horses, he will show them right.

For general blacksmithing give him a try.

And never again you'll pass him by. On Wednesday Mrs Hill will have Ladies' Aid. Come all you ladies don't be afraid Mrs Clyde Arnold we want in the President's chair.

So you for one must sure be there. And Mrs Duncan we want you too.

Though at times they tell you you're feeling blue.

Since Gordon has left you and gone to stay.

With Charlie Wallace, while Jim's away.

In conclusion, Tripola, we must let you be known.

Your big contractor was too slow. For when he was last sporting around.

C. A. Wallace was on the ground.

He clinched the contract from J. B. Gray.

The C.N.R. completes in May. And friend Prendergast wants a job.

He will find that he will have to sub.

And when the towns are scattered On this big C.N.R. branch.

We hope Polona won't be turned down.

Oh please give us a chance.

Tom Monahan has some fine milk cows.

That o'er the prairie roam. But for dairy purpose they're no good.

They seldom are at home.

Now as for drying or heavy draft. We need no team of great renown.

Jack Swift can hitch Mollie to the shaft.

And haul all the stuff for any town. We had some trouble with our school.

To keep trustees in shape. But now we've got them slack and fast.

There's no way of escape.

Some tried to escape but it was no use.

They have to stay and take abuse. For when the public meeting was called.

The three trustees were there, that's all.

Constable Thompson, R.N.W.M.P. of Suffield, and Constable Rowatt, of Carlstadt, made an arrest of a rather startling character Saturday afternoon.

A Hindu has been working for some weeks on the farm of W. J. Hall and has given complete satisfaction. It therefore came as a surprise when it was learned that he was suspected of a murder which was committed in B.C. some years ago. He was taken to Medicine Hat, and an officer is on the way from the scene of the crime to identify him.

J. McEwen, of Gleichen, visited at the home of his son, Dr. S. F. McEwen, Friday to Monday.

SUFFIELD

Your new lady correspondent now wishes to send her weekly budget of happenings in the live town of Suffield.

The stock is still keeping busy. Most of Suffield, the third lot of train in a few weeks. Lantz, Skidmore and now Knudson. Whose turn next? Oh, pray be careful.

Mr and Mrs Foster from the Banjow visited Suffield this week.

Tommy has bought the swiftest gelding in the district from J. C. Todd. The reason he bought same was to travel faster. But if you know him you would say he's a little too fast. (The mounty's name is Tommy.)

W. H. R. Iles had the pleasure of walking into town to get assistance to tow in his twenty dead horses.

We regret to say that Mr Colin Dewhurst is now very sick with a kink in his back. Warning, take care how you crank your car.

We are all sorry to hear of the Carlstadt Good Friday motorizing party having to command the services of a hand car and if that was not bad enough without coming down further to a two horse democrat.

Billy's tent was blown towards heaven last week. He has now returned to civilization and lives with his Aunt in a house. No more canvas for Billy.

Dear Harry V., oh don't be sore there are four Harry's in town. I am allowed to mention that Harry and Lilly are now on better terms, thanks to the press.

Dan Doyle our well respected celter is now in possession of a new piano for his restaurant. He intends giving a musical evening every night at dinner, with his four piece orchestra, three to chew and one to play.

Dan has got a new staff of three very pleasant waitresses. Now boys don't get too hungry.

Our policeman rode to the Hat last Tuesday and returned Thursday. No identifications I presume. He told me, Trilby was a good play, saw it at the Empress on Wednesday.

St Rowatt of Carlstadt, accompanied by Thomson and a priest, left for Medicine Hat. They both looked tired on their return on Sunday. Poor things! Hand Life. Police until 3 a.m. Sunday.

Mr Ferguson rode the goat-on on Thursday last at the local Masonic lodge meeting. I saw him the next day and he felt nervous.

The Canadian Weeds have got an Overland self starter and now are looking for an underground self fertilizer.

Mr Wilson called in Suffield last Monday in his buzz wagon accompanied by his future son-in-law from the bank.

Your correspondent collected $1.50 from W. H. R. Iles this week for one years subscription to the Carlstadt News.

A few hoboes arrived in town this while our police were away. Tommy missed another trip to the Hat.

L. Dorsey was in town Monday.

Mr Dewhurst spent the Easter vacation at the home of Mr. Ross. Poor invalid, did you crank the car?

Gentlemen studying at the bar are Read, Rutherford and Whiting. Classes close at ten p.m. week days and seven p.m. Saturday.

Mr Roberts, the postmaster, has now a fine line of reading matter just arrived from the wholesale house.

Dr. Mason is leaving town for his home at day following, but not until it gets warmer he says. Consultation held in Police Barracks late Monday night.

Tony Willes spent Monday night at our police post.

Lecture on Dry Farming, by men who know. Martin, Dewhurst, Booth and Goldiman. Date will be given later.

Mr. Willes set for examination under the new Code at Carlstadt on Tuesday and Wednesday. It is understood Mr Booth is going through same later.

J. Rowe is still residing in town, under his present time catching gophers on his farm.

Charlie Hurtle is still on the water wagon.

GET YOUR CANADIAN HOME FROM THE CANADIAN PACIFIC

Wonderfully fertile land is offered for sale by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company at prices ranging from $11 to $50 per acre. There is no better agricultural land than this virgin Canadian soil. It is unsurpassed for all forms of agriculture, including grain growing, stock raising, dairying, poultry culture, vegetable growing, and general mixed farming! The lands are convenient to railways and markets, and are located in a land of low taxation and delightful climate.

TWENTY YEARS TO PAY

Under the Company's new policy, no land is sold to speculators, but only to the one who will occupy and improve it. The terms of sale are now on-twentieth cash and the balance spread over twenty years, with interest at six per cent per annum.

ASSISTANCE TO FARMERS

Under certain conditions the Company will advance a loan of $2000 to new settlers to be used in erecting a house and barn, fencing the land, and sinking a well. This loan is repayable on the same terms as the purchase price.

TRIPOLA

A number of young folks of Tripola attended the lecture at Blue Grass School last Friday evening on "The Weeds of Alberta," which was eloquently delivered by Harry Johnson of Carlstadt. U.F.A. gave a dance after the lecture, making it altogether a very enjoyable evening. It takes Harry to draw a good crowd.

Jean Kincaid and Jack McLean left Tripola Sunday for Fernie, B.C.

J. Butler and son Jack went to Medicine Hat last week, intending to spend a few days in the city.

Frank Leanna and sisters Sallie and Marnie visited the home of Mrs. Biros last week.

Vern Starr returned to Carlstadt Monday, after spending a few days at the home of Mr. George Potter.

Possibly there was a mirage on last week at the time when the Polona importer observed horses jumping through meshes of wire in the Foxton horse corral. Wonder if this wouldn't be another instance of the "blossoming gopher."

Mrs Alfred Truman visited Mrs L. C. Furey one day last week.

Miss Sadie Biros and Jean McKibbin visited Mrs A. Truman last week.

C. C. Hyatt purchased a fine four horse outfit from A. Prendergast this week.

Chas. Kincaid made a trip to Carlstadt in his new buggy Sunday and returned the day following. He had a couple of passengers, but says it is only made for two. It is not a yellow gear Timothee Eaton either.

What about that diamond boy? The Tripola Ball Team are gradually coming back to the old nine again. Several of last year's players are returning from California, Florida and other winter training grounds. Nothing tame this year.

RAINY VALLEY

Heard Mr Pingle at the U.F.A. meeting, Saturday evening at 8 p.m., at Fernie Flats School.

Come and hear about free pre-empion.

S. Tammer was in Medicine Hat Friday and Saturday. Ask him how he likes his land.

POLONA PONDERINGS

Mr and Mrs R. S. Clark spent Sunday at the home of A. Hill.

L. C. Furey made the round trip to the Blue Burg last week.

Clyde Arnold and Andrew Hill made a business trip to Carlstadt on Friday last.

We understand that W. A. Foxton has joined the U.F.A., so that he would be able to buy hog wire that would turn his outlaws.

A number of the young sports of Polona attended the dance at Blue-grass last Friday night and learned to dance the tangs and also the hesitation waltz.

J. M. Hill called at the home of J. B. Gray last Saturday. Go easy Jack.

C. A. Wallace took dinner with Charlie Ellis on Sunday. Charlie says it is so nice to get a good meal once in a while.

We understand that Melvin Hunter, the Polona pugilist got his eyes blacked one day last week by an amateur boxer of this district.

We understand that Mary Hill has fully recovered from the sight of meeting the "blossoming gopher" last week.

Charlie Clark was calling at the home of Mr Hunter on Saturday. Charlie, can't you take a hint?

Mr Frank Gray, one of our local broncho busters made a return trip to Carlstadt on Saturday. Frank says he is a goer, if he is blind in one eye. But he seems enough to do the other.

Clyde Arnold sold a fine saddle horse to J. B. Gibson of Pelee's last week.

The Ladies' Aid meeting at Mrs A. Hill's on April last was a decided success. Mrs A. Hoggaborn being the only lady present.

Wonder where Charlie Wallace is these days? He is never at home. He must still be in search of a c-c-k.

C. R. McDonald is a hustler when it comes breaking time.

Mr and Mrs L. Thomas entertained friends at Easter.

Carlstadt U.F.A. produced the goods Saturday evening, but water us at Fernie Flats next Saturday.

C. O. Olson is moving his family back on the farm again for the summer.

WONDERFUL WOOD.

There Is Practically No Limit to the Life of Greenheart.

A most wonderful wood is that of the tropical tree called greenheart. The tree belongs to the laurel family and is exported mainly from the island of Trinidad and British Guiana. The wood is so nearly indestructible that no limit to its life is known. It is used chiefly in ship and dock building. The wood is proof against the white ant on land and the teredo in salt water. A United States government report says:

Greenheart has been known to stand in wharves for over thirty years, and logs that have remained under water for a hundred years are in perfectly sound condition.

Greenheart's extraordinary resistance to decay is probably owing to the presence of an alkaloid known as bibirine and also to certain resinous substances known as tyloses. The latter are reddish brown masses of living cells that grow in solid masses within little cavities that they often fill completely. As they grow with the tree they turn black and make the wood of the older trees black.

As in all tropical trees, whose growth is continuous through the year, there are no annual growth rings. The trees probably do not reach maturity under 250 years. A greenheart tree is from sixty to a hundred feet in height. It is an evergreen without knots and has a broad, open crown. The wood weighs about seventy-five pounds to the cubic foot and resists a crushing force of 12,000 pounds to the square inch.—Youth's Companion.

CANOPIES ON THEIR HEADS.

People of Korea Wear the Largest Hats in the World.

What would you think of a hat that was so large it would safely shelter your father, mother, sisters and yourself under it should a sudden rain-storm come up. The men of Korea like these enormous hats and would not feel properly dressed without them. These hats look like great flower pots set on a round table six feet across. The crowns are nine feet in height and three inches wide, much like a chimney on a one story house. How do you suppose these large, round head coverings are kept on? Under the brim is a small, closely fitting cap, held on by a padded string which ties under the ears. The material of these hats is bamboo, so finely split that it is like

THE OLD STAGE HERO.

He of the Mid-Victorian Age Has Gone From Us Forever.

The stage hero of the mid-Victorian age wept on all the available articles of furniture when his manly heart was wrung. He was certain to observe a noble silence at exactly the wrong time, enabling the gay and glittering gentleman who was more than suspected of being an atheist to get the girl. He was cross once in awhile, when he was keeping another's secret at the expense of his own character and somebody took him at his word.

But oh, how dependable he was! How sure to meet a train or make an excellent omelet if the fragile heroine had mislaid the cookbook! How strong he was and how fond of carrying people upstairs. How well he brought up his first wife's children if he was a widower, or the heroine if he was her guardian!

He will not come again—not he nor such as he. He has passed, always with a certain dignity, his heroine's drooping curls brushing his protecting arm, into the country of last year's snow, and year before last's presidential candidate, and all forgotten, irrecoverable things. And, as his favorite author, the Swan of Avon, said, "We shall not gaze upon his like again."—Atlantic.

WHICH WOULD YOU CHOOSE?

All the Land in Great Britain or Calico to Cover It?

If—and don't forget the "if"—you were offered as a present either all the land in the United Kingdom or a piece of cheap, common calico of the same area, which would you choose?

Probably, without a moment's hesitation, you would say, "The land" and would imagine that you had got very much the better of the bargain. From one point of view, of course, this would be so, for land lasts longer than does calico. On the other hand, however, you would be choosing very much the cheaper of the two offered gifts.

The land of the United Kingdom, including town areas, is estimated to be worth £2,500,000,000. A piece of cheap calico of the same size as the United Kingdom would cost more than £9,000,000,000.

Difficult to believe, isn't it? Still, the facts cannot be denied. Average agricultural land may be reckoned as being worth £20 an acre; building land, say, twenty-five miles from Charing Cross, £100 an acre; ten miles from Outfits For the Maids.

"The mistress is known by the maids that she keeps," said a critic, and he wasn't far wrong, for certainly the appearance of her maids does count for a great deal with a model mistress, and she selects their outfits with the greatest care.

There are many little niceties in outfits of the kind which are known only to those women who pride themselves on being particular about such things—for instance, the little touch of black, usually in the form of loops of narrow black velvet ribbon, which distinguishes the cap of the waitress or lady's maid, and the goffered edges and long ties of the cap for the children's nurse.

Caps For Maids.

These caps for the maids are just little oval or three cornered affairs of swiss and lace and are quite inexpensive, but how much they do add to the trimness of their wearer's appearance! One of the prettiest of them is a demure little Priscilla cap of white lawn.

Among the white aprons there are some extremely attractive styles. There are the white lawn princess aprons, with straps and bibs of embroidery. The Gibson aprons are very pretty, with the bretelles extended over the shoulder and the plain straps,

If you want your waitress to have one of the newest things in aprons get her an apron of shadow plaid dimity, with a ruffle of sheer embroidery. Some smart looking models have shoulder straps formed of inch wide beading, finished on both edges with inch wide embroidery. The embroidery is sewed perfectly flat on the beading, so that the strap launders perfectly.

Gingham aprons are not the ungainly looking garments that they used to be, for now they are made in princess style and gores so that they fit snugly. Nothing can be neater in appearance than the long princess apron with the slight flare at the bottom and the two big curved pockets.

Neatness in Dress.

The gingham all over apron with sleeves is fine for the girl who has

SUPPLEMENT TO THE CARLSTADT NEWS

Local and General

Mrs Frank Shields is spending the week at Rainy Valley.

F. E. McDiarmid on Tuesday said he knew it would rain because he had all his wheat in.

J. Y. Clark went to Calgary on Tuesday.

Sunday was a typical Easter Day. The service at St. Mary's was very bright and inspiring, a large congregation being present. The sermon was descriptive of the many works of women. The chancel was beautifully decorated with many flowers, the kind gift of Mrs Love (Carlstadt). The silver Communion set, the gift of Mr and Mrs H. Von Wilucki, in loving memory of the late Mr J Baldwin, was used for the first time. Mrs F. Jordan Basken presided at the organ with much taste and expression, and was very ably assisted by the well-known violinist, Mr J. Blanchard, who did very much to improve the musical portion of the service.

Herbert Johnson is putting in some time out at the farm.

W. G. Scollard, the first of the week, said that some rain was due.

A dance under the auspices of the Carlstadt Social Club was held Monday evening in the Adanac Hall. The Redcliff Orchestra furnished good music. The attendance was good, and dancing was kept up till the early hours.

Herman and Rose have opened up a restaurant in the American Hotel.

C. H. Wagner motored down to Suffield Good Friday, taking as passengers Mrs Wagner, Mrs W. G. Scollard and Mrs E. C. Hegy.

W. H. R. Iles, of Suffield, motored to Carlstadt last Friday.

Geo. McKee spent Friday to Monday in Bassano.

Arthur C. Hughes spent a pleasant week-end at the ranch.

Roy Woolven came in from the ranch over Tuesday.

G. Gunderson was in town the first of the week.

Pete Mattson, of Brutus, visited Carlstadt this week.

Dr. and Mrs McEwen and Hilda, with Mr J. McEwen, went out in the car, Sunday, as far as Brutus, visiting Wesley while there.

H. Morrow, of Medicine Hat, was in Carlstadt last Thursday.

The News has received an offer of a News Service. Some genius, living a thousand miles away or more, has a mania for drivelling over the most utter rubbish and nonsense, and offers it to the News at so much per column, claiming to have supplied hundreds of editors with this same stuff for years past, and stating that subscribers will be deluded into accepting such moonshine and wishy washy pessimism as local matter. The News has not yet arrived at that stage when it requires the assistance of that or similar despairing philosophy.

WANTED.—Information as to who it was took the half-window out of the Harrop building on Wednesday, April 15th. Suitable reward given for information resulting in conviction.

Box 9, Carlstadt.

The "W. A." will meet on Wednesday afternoon of next week, April 22nd, at the residence of Mrs W. M. Cotter. All women will be welcome.

We have been asked by one of our subscribers in Suffield to publish the following, it being an extract from a speech delivered at a meeting in that town about three weeks ago:—"You cannot find a town more thoroughly in the grip of a monopoly than the town of Suffield. For miles around you the land has been disposed of to the Southern Alberta Land Co., on condition it be irrigated fully by 1915 and eventually disposed of to settlers by the year 1925. For a great area around this town there are no settlers on the land and the Company appears at the present time to be making no effort to extend the irrigation system as required of it. Suffield is depressed because the land around it is idle and untilled, whereas if the land had been retained and thrown open to settlement in the regular way it would have long before now become the habitation of busy, prosperous and contented farmers, who would make the town of Suffield their trading point. At the present moment the Southern Alberta Land Co. is showing its teeth and claws in connection with the gas franchise in your town. My advice to you is to bring the whole case before the present government in the hope of finding some means by which relief can be afforded."

Mr C. A. Sachs has presented St. Mary's Church with a magnificent silver, lined with gold, baptismal font, in memory of his great uncle Lord Herschel, High Chancellor of England.

Mr and Mrs Hermon von Wilucki and Mr W. Rodatz were dinner guests on Easter Sunday of Mr and Mrs W. M. Cotter.

Communication

Brutus, Alta., April 6th, 1914.
To the Editor, Carlstadt News.

Dear Sir
A case of cruelty to animals was set up against me by the neighbours Pratt and Bishop. It was in the snowstorm, the 24th of March, that Bishop's and Pratt's cattle in the evening did break away a bar, as they have done before, to the shed I have my wagon in, and had filled up the shed, seeking for shelter. They all ran out again except one heifer which was sitting fast between the wagon and the side wall. And my case of cruelty to animals consists in that I with a spade pushed the heifer from behind to get her out forwards, and on the head for to get her out backwards. A lamb or a sheep a man can lift out. But how will my practical farmer advise me to get out the heifer except by forcing the heifer to strive to get itself free? The wagon I was unable to move because the heifer held the wagon fast. And let it be remembered that it was a dark evening and a cold snowstorm. When an animal falls in a well a man will do his best for to get it up even at a risk that the animal will be hurt on the way up. Likewise I suppose that any practical farmer will try in a case like I was in, to get the heifer free. Next morning I saw that a little blood was on the heifer, no blood was running, but marks of blood the heifer had. But nobody will be able to tell whether I had done the harm with the spade in the dark evening, or whether the heifer herself had done it in the night-time by climbing up the side-wall with the forelegs and falling down again, as I saw she did in the morning, unable to come forward or backward, and knocking about with her head. In the morning I tried again to get the heifer free, but was not able to. Later in the forenoon came a neighbour, and he helped me to get the heifer free by moving the wagon with some difficulty. The heifer ran out to Bishop's and Pratt's cattle that again were knocking about my house. The long imprisonment did not seem to have hurt her very much. So is the truth.

To me it is so much the more disgusting that Pratt and Bishop turn up that case of cruelty to animals against me as I have been troubled by their animals both summer and winter. And let it be noted, that it was just on the evening of a cold snowstorm day, and neither that day in the snowstorm nor for that night had Bishop and Pratt cared for their cattle, but as their custom is, had let the cattle care for themselves. In a hard, cold winter, Bishop and Pratt turn out their cattle to care for themselves. And likewise did Bishop turn out his milks. Snow freezes to ice on the poor milks backs, no shelter, no water and no other food than the milks themselves can get. Most people will call that cruelty to animals. And these men turn up a case of cruelty to animals against me. No commiseration is needed.

This article I do write for the benefit of other farmers, and I trust that several will read it with interest and profit by reading it. Therefore also something of the trial by the Court at Suffield where my case came out so badly contrary to all what I had expected. Born Englishmen will know how an English Court does work, and Pratt and Bishop were therefore well prepared, possibly also advised how to do. I was only prepared for to tell the truth. But with the experience I have now I shall advise anyone who is to meet in a Court to write down carefully what he wants to say. Can he himself not write English, let someone who can write English help him to write it up all as shortly and clearly as possible. In the Court it can then be read, or he can read it himself. I think that most men who are to meet in an English Court first time will profit by following my advice.

The Court was closed before we had discussed the many points. Particularly on one saying I should have liked to have enquired Bishop better. He stated that when he saw the heifer the blood was still running from the wounds to the ground. As the heifer was going with the other cattle the day of the 25th March, could Bishop not have seen the heifer before the evening of that day? The place the heifer was staying on in my shed is still to be seen, and only a very slight trace of blood is to be seen on the wall. And if I had washed the blood off, the marks of washing would be visible. But the wall, the ground and the wagon point clearly out that no washing and no cleaning has been done. From that I can prove that one or two is the case; either Bishop has not told the truth when he stated that the blood was running from the heifer to the ground when he first saw the heifer, or something had happened with the wounds that had made the blood run more freely out than when the heifer was staying in my shed. The saying of Bishop was therefore certainly most interesting.

No small danger for my horses is it that Bishop's and Pratt's cattle in the nights are running round my house. For the sake of fresh air I have in the nights the door open to the horse stable. (See my article "Worth and loss for animals in the stable," in "The Farm and Ranch Review," No. 21, November 5th, 1913). The night of the 24th March I had happily the door shut because of the snowstorm. Instead of going in the wagon shed the cattle had also most likely gone to the horse stable and piled up there. Particularly one of my horses is rather wild; she would have kicked and become wild, and I perhaps lost another horse. Or in its shed the binder is staying, and one side of that shed is shut up not very good. But it costs money to buy boards. Had the cattle turned in to the binder instead of to the wagon the binder would have been smashed. Or the cattle break into my stack of oats and spoil what I have to feed my horses on. To me much is at stake by having the cattle of Bishop and Pratt running round my house. And they evidently not alone expect, but also claim that other people shall be more careful to their cattle than they are themselves. But two farmers will of my case see what a danger loose animals are. And I think that this case of cruelty to animals brought on me will give many farmers something to think on.
